Gender Response Budgeting: Mainstreaming Gender in Public Finance and Governance

(December 15-16, 2025)

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

Gender Response Budgeting (GRB) is a strategic approach that applies a gender perspective to the entire budget process, ensuring public finance acts as a tool for equality. This two-day programme is meticulously designed for executives and government officials to understand how public expenditure can effectively address gender-based disparities and drive women's empowerment.

Participants will move from foundational gender concepts and sectoral challenges (in areas like Health, Transport, and WASH) to the practical implementation of Gender Response Budgeting (GRB). The course will emphasize successful initiatives at the national and sub-national levels in India, the roles of Gender Budgeting Cells, and the necessary tools for performance assessment. By the end, participants will be equipped to transform policy commitments into measurable, gender-equal outcomes.

OBJECTIVE

This programme is to equip executives with the practical tools and strategic knowledge required to analyze, formulate, and monitor public budgets through a gender lens. It aims to ensure that public expenditure adequately addresses gender-based challenges in key sectors and to enhance participants' capabilities in setting up and managing effective Gender Budgeting Cells. Furthermore, the programme provides in-depth strategies for using a performance-based approach to assess the impact of Gender Response Budgeting, driving accountability and sustainable gender equality goals.

CONTENT

1. Foundations of Gender-Responsive Budgeting (GRB)
2. Budgeting for Women Empowerment – Case Studies (Kerala and other States)
3. Gender Budgeting Initiatives in India (National Overview)
4. Setting up Gender Budgeting Cells – Roles and Functions
5. Understanding the Five-Step Framework & Entry Point Tools for GB

6. Mainstreaming Gender at the Sub-National Level: Select State Initiatives
7. GRB and Performance Assessment
